Who Should Attend?

The CFO Roundtable is an educational opportunity for cooperative Chief Financial Officers. One additional cooperative leader that is either a director on the board who works with cooperative financial resources OR a direct report to the CFO who is actively involved in the financial decision-making for the cooperative is invited to attend with the CFO.

This conference will be held at the Embassy Suites - Olathe and will have leading experts discuss key cooperative financial topics. This is a great opportunity that is being offered to an invitation-only group of cooperative CFOs, of which you are included. It's not only a wonderful opportunity for you to dig into financial issues facing cooperatives, internal controls and managing through change, but also to network with other cooperative finance professionals dealing with similar issues.

We invite you to this educational forum where critical issues, success stories and expert advice on leadership and finance are presented and discussed.

Program Cost: $1,595
