2019

LEADERSHIP ROUNDTABLE 2019 will kick off with internationally respected speaker and consultant, Jeff Butler. Jeff helps bridge generational gaps between Millennials and companies looking for their talent and patronage. Jeff will discuss how to cultivate leadership in today's workplace and how anyone can develop leadership traits to create life-changing adjustments to get extraordinary results.

Butler is a third-generational Silicon Valley entrepreneur and has founded three companies at the age of 27. As a computer science major at U.C. Berkeley, whose program was ranked second in the country, he experienced the ongoing parade of companies and recruiters trying to woo him and his classmates. Butler has quickly built his reputation as a memorable presenter with tangible solutions for attracting, retaining, and engaging Millennials as employees and customers. Within just the past three years, he has spoken at two TEDx events and multiple Fortune 500 companies such as Google, Amazon, and LinkedIn.

Butler spent the first years of his career at some of the world's fastest-charging startups and tech companies before launching his consulting company in 2016. He is the author of two books The Authentic Workplace and The Key to the NewYou.

- ◇ Kickoff dinner & reception is included with KCC Leadership Roundtable registration.
